Bentek Launches Refreshed Website Showcasing Enhanced Capabilities

SAN JOSE, CA — December 2011 - Bentek, a leading manufacturer and engineering solutions provider for complex electro-mechanical and power distribution systems for the PV solar, data center, environmental, industrial, medical and semiconductor markets, announces a reformatted, easy to navigate website showcasing their complete systems solutions expertise.

"Compared to traditional sourcing models, Bentek has the unique experience and capability to take complete responsibility to supply complex, highly configurable build-to-order and configure-to-order (BTO/CTO) solutions for demanding customers who value reduced time-to-market and lower total landed cost solutions," said Jeff Urban, Strategic Sales and Marketing Executive for Bentek.
